

Art History Minor

Requirements

A minor in Art History consists of six courses in the discipline, with the following guidelines:

- At least three courses at the distribution (1000-2000) level
- One each in courses that focus primarily on the period before 1600 CE and after 1600 CE, regardless of the level
- It is possible to major in Art and minor in Art History or vice versa. Minors who are not majors in either Art or Art History may take one course at Georgetown in the other discipline for credit toward the minor
- One course may be taken abroad with prior approval. No more than two courses taken outside the Department of Art and Art History (for example cross-listed courses, study abroad courses, and transferred credits) may count toward the minor in Art History.
- Internships do not apply to the minor, though some courses taught in non-ARTH departments may, with approval of the Director of Undergraduate Studies
