

Health & the Public Interest, MA

Modality

On Campus

Program URL

<https://hapi.georgetown.edu/>

The M.S. program in Health and the Public Interest examines health policy through a lens that considers societal, psychological and cultural factors and how they intersect with corporate and institutional influences through a curriculum that emphasizes critical thinking, analytical, and research skills.

Academic Policies

The academic policies and procedures of the Health and the Public Interest program are those specified in Georgetown University's Bulletin.

Requirements

This program is no longer admitting new students.

Health & the Public Interest, MA migration

Plan of Study

Program Requirements

Students must complete 30 credits with a minimum GPA of 3.000. The typical course of study is outlined below.

Course	Title	Credits
Fall Pre-Session
HAPI 6000		3
Credits		3
Fall
HAPI 6002	TheoryMethods I: EvalClinEpiRes	3
HAPI 5004	Biology of Health and Disease	3
HAPI 6006	Health Advocacy	3
HAPI 5000	HAPI Seminar	0
Elective selected from approved list		3
Credits		12
Spring
HAPI 6003	TheoryMethodsII	3
HAPI 6004	Health Economics	2
HAPI 6001	Health Communications	3
HAPI 5003	HAPI Seminar	1
Elective selected from approved list		3
Credits		12
Summer
Capstone or Internship Project		3
Credits		3
Total Credits		30